Embracing and Loving---The Change Adventure

Change is happening---and the pace of change is accelerating. Change is an adventure---a journey filled with uncertainty, emotional angst, operational turmoil and upside (and downside!) surprises. Anticipating those changes, “smelling the future”, seeing creative opportunities where others see chaos and responding to those changes with enthusiasm can be---with the right “change mindset”--- a joy for the management team. Change Leaders---those who see change coming, who love the opportunities change offers and who “create the future”---will flourish. This seminar addresses “what’s changing”, provides a template for idea generation, discusses the five stages of The Change Journey, outlines tactics for communicating change, discusses the “Change Team” needed to make change happen and delivers the message Change Leaders need to hear if they’re going to embrace and love ---The Change Adventure.
